WHAT WE ARE TO BE,
WE ARE NOW BECOMING . . .

50TH ANNIVERSARY

1973 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the Rex Hospital School of Nursing "Nightingale." In 1923 the first "Nightingale" was put to press. Now fifty years later the "Nightingale" staff wishes to remember that first annual by attempting to bring back memories of 1923 by including pictures from that year.

DEDICATION

Say "AH," Mrs. Hill!

Reflecting on one who means so much to us, we think of a lady who is full of wit, yet is a concerned friend. This lady has been as an interviewer to most of us as incoming freshmen, as a teacher who stood by us, as a gracious hostess who has invited us to her home, and as a comforter to us when we have been discouraged or sick. We the senior class of 1973 consider it an honor to dedicate the 1973 Nightingale to our Student Health Nurse —

MRS. EDITH HILL

What did you put in the punch, Mrs. Hill?

The door is always open at Mrs. Hill's.

A little sugar helps.

You'll be my boyfriend, won't you?

A little kiss cures everything!

Aren't we cute?

Don't ask me what I'm goin' to do!

Aw, come on!

You can tell it's Thursday night.

She always has a smile for us.

And where have you been?

When you're lonely, anything will help.

Dream on, Pat, Dream on!!!!

You caught me with my pants down!

Practice Session — And who's the guinea pig?

"What's the Hold Up?"

Another year at Rex has passed
For some, the first — for some, the last;
All time elapsed couldn't be bought,
There's still so much to be taught.

Freshmen nurses sweat it out at State
Chemistry and English — they learn to hate;
Finally, they don the dress of blue
And take on the air of "Nursie Sue"!

The Junior nurse wakes up at six
"Just the cleanest" uniform — she picks;
She'll read reports — then hope and pray
That she doesn't run into Wanda J.!

The Senior — what a life she leads;
MCH — she constantly reads;
Strive for the best and never gripe —
Anything to get that single stripe!

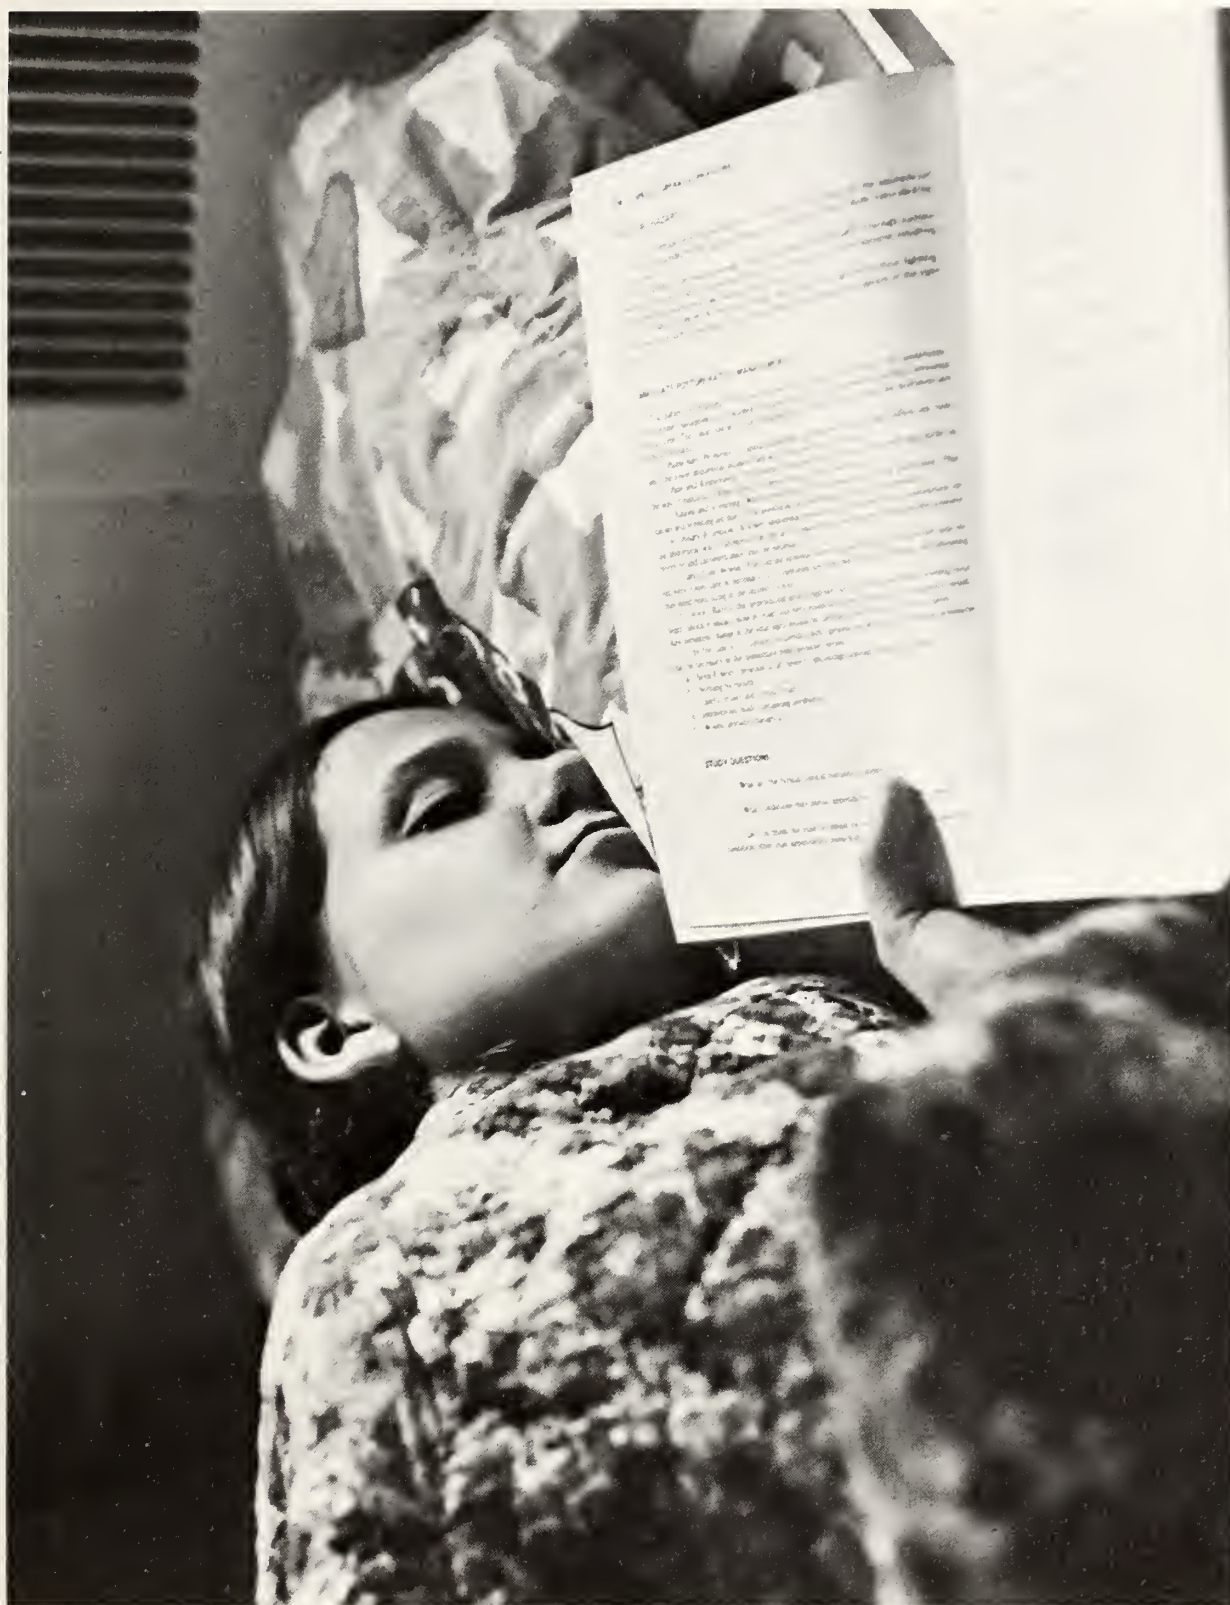

There are also students of X-Ray
Who work by night and sleep by day;
But it's not so bad all the time
Who else can sleep and get paid a dime?

Their lowest post is a Junior R.T.
A cook and a maid — she'll come to be;
Mix that barium thick as mush
And save the questions for after the rush!

The Senior R.T. becomes a wreck
Just trying to be a "Super Tech;"
She teaches Juniors tricks of the trade
Picked up from mistakes she has already made.

No matter the class or the time gone by
A roar of laughter will replace a sigh;
Because no matter the color in which you're dressed
Rex girls can say, "We give it our best!"

— BONNIE WATSON

Seasons come and go, we know,
Summer sun and winter snow;
No one knew what next to expect,
The weather really kept us wrecked!

February brought the real flood here,
And right much snow fell this year;
It was really after the second "Great Blizzard"
That it was time for a change by the Wizard!

Everyone always looks forward to spring,
To open windows and listen to birds sing;
It's the season for sitting on the porch
Or to go on the roof and let "lily skin" scorch!

It's the time for the Miss Rex Dance,
Drop the books — let out raves and rants;
The Juniors really go to a lot of fuss
To celebrate the crowning of one of us!

What Senior seems to be the best —
Personality, looks and all the rest?
She's judged in many different ways,
By all the nurses and x-rays!

This seems to be the highlight of all,
Everyone always has a ball;
Warmth and sunshine have unfurled,
And Rex girls are the happiest in the world!

Editor's Note

The 1973 Nightingale is a book of many memories. For the staff, it contains the memories of many hours of work, concentration and at times frustration. For you who possess this annual I hope it will recapture the moods, the events, and the tempo of this past year. I hope that in future years you can cherish it as the last link to your three years of growing and learning at Rex. There are many whom I have deepest appreciation for helping the 1973 Nightingale become a reality.

Mrs. Carol Graham and each member of the staff for their time, energy, and talents put forth in the production of this annual

Donna Thomas, my assistant editor, who so willingly gave her time, assistance, and helpful ideas — she will make a fine editor next year

Paulette Evans for taking care of our bills and vying with the bank

Micki Hunsucker for her time and patience in working with us and for her great photography work

Ed Goldston, representative from Hunter Publishing Company, for giving his time so unselfishly

The Rex Hospital Student Government Association for their efforts to make this annual possible

Alma Kermion for her suggestions and money raising spirit

Those who so thoughtfully made financial contributions to help put the annual to press:

Brown-Wynne Funeral Home, Inc.

Leon-Byrum Opticians

Mitchell Funeral Home, Inc.

Rex Hospital Alumni Association

I hope each of you will enjoy this annual as much as the staff has.

*Sincerely,
Debbie Gibson
Editor*
